To whom it may concern

We were very happy to welcome N2U as a special event performance in our museum.

They have shown great energy and professionalism, being able to work with a diverse group of people, ones with disability, children and family and the general public.

The exhibition was a great success and helped the museum to pursue its goals of inclusivity and also to map out the future of the museum in a greater sense.

The installation was extremely creative and provided an unique and positive experience to the visitor of the museum.

The installation Chiromancy is suitable to anyone looking for an immersive kind of project which maintain the standard of quality expected in a museum while opening the door to a new audience.

Best regards,
